

In love to all your pure faces

Dear Canlar

As the AABF Spiritual Council, it is our wish that we comply with the conditions of our Cem houses (Cem evi), and it is our wish for the sacrificial ceremony to sacrifice an animal in our Cem houses in accordance with the principles of our way and religion and to carry out the rituals.

With the consent of the members of the Cem house, it will be an indication of the beauty in our religion that the extra almous are delivered to their Cem houses or to those in real need, as always.

May my soul be sacrificed, may my skin be the translator

May my life be sacrificed for the saints

My confession has always been archaic

My soul is in the square, in the square

(Poem of Nesimi)

In Alevism to sacrifice means to sacrifice one's own senses. By "May my soul be sacrificed, may my skin be the translator" it means to give one's promise in the presence of Mansur. It means hand in hand, and hand to Hakk (God) to attain with knowledge and wisdom in the way of the saints. The best way to approach God in Alevism is through love, beauty, truthfulness, goodness, that is, being a perfect (mature, competent) human being.

To die before death is to give up this world and reach human perfection, that is, to give up everything as a whole. To die before death by dulling oneself, to be devoted to the path is to devote one's soul to one's soul. To be one with the truth is to be in favour of love and beauty and to be a perfect human being.

According to SAH HATAY can every soul know

The sacrificial ceremony has taken place

In his/her nails are prayer beads and in his/her blood is coral

The sacrificed animal came down to the religious people

As our Pir (patriarch) said the sacrificial ceremony took place because the Can (soul) who gave his/her promise sacrifices his/her soul.

It is our prayer from the truth that God does not cause us to touch the sinister, the light, the shammer, the ones who do not believe in Pir (patriarch). May God accept our sacrificial ceremony, may our wishes come true, may our houses be full of love and our fortune lush. Let the owners of the almous find intercession from their almous, and may God accept our prayers.

For a world full of peace and love
